Call for Special Sessions and Workshops

13th International Conference on Big Data, Cloud Computing, and Data Science (BCD 2027-IV)

September 8–10, 2027
Kyoto Institute of Technology, Kyoto, Japan

Call for Proposals

The Organizing Committee of BCD 2027-IV invites proposals for Special Sessions and Workshops to be held in conjunction with the conference.

Special Sessions and Workshops provide opportunities for researchers and practitioners to present and discuss recent advances, emerging research directions, and challenging issues in focused research areas.

We welcome proposals on topics related to the scope of BCD 2027-IV, including big data analytics, cloud computing, data science, distributed data processing, edge computing, artificial intelligence, machine learning, and other emerging and interdisciplinary areas related to big data, cloud computing, and data science.

Proposal Submission

Prospective organizers are invited to submit their proposals using the official Special Session/Workshop Proposal Form.

Please complete the form and submit it by email to the following recipients:

To: Eric Jarman (Secretary, ACIS International)
Email: acis@acisinternational.org

Cc: Atsushi Nunome (Program Chair, BCD 2027-IV)
Email: nunome@kit.ac.jp

Proposals will be reviewed by the conference organizers based on their relevance to the conference, technical significance, and potential to attract high-quality submissions.

Responsibilities of Organizers

Organizers of accepted Special Sessions and Workshops are expected to promote their sessions or workshops, solicit paper submissions, coordinate the peer-review process, and organize the technical program in cooperation with the conference organizers.
